Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
Hello!
My name is Farah Aria, a published freelance illustrator and author living in Cambria California. I create artwork for the children's market celebrating multicultural diversity, love and care for the environment, and whimsical art for young children ~ or the young at heart!

My art has been published in books and magazines, and used for educational uses in all forms, as well as for posters, greeting cards, packaging design and animation. I've also enjoyed creating artwork for non-profit organizations supporting women, children, and animals.

Awards and Accolades
My first career was as a teacher working with young children at a Montessori Preschool while studying Early Childhood Development, Teaching Art to Children, and Children's Literature at Cal State LA. I spent over a decade as a teacher, then followed my passion to become a children's book author and illustrator. I attended Art Center College of Design in Pasadena, California, and graduated with a BFA in Illustration in 1997. I've been a member of SCBWI since 1994.
I spent the next fifteen years working in commissioned freelance illustration for the
