Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
From a young age, I've always been excited by numbers. I was top of the class in maths at primary school and when I finished sixth form I enrolled as a mathematics undergraduate at Cambridge University. Today, I am an accountant. I still love getting to grips with numbers and complex data to solve problems and support business success.

With over 15 years of experience in accounting, I have built a reputation for enhancing the performance of finance departments.

In my current role as senior accountant at Aston Martin Garage Dubai, I prepare financial reports and statements while managing a range of finance-related tasks. I also analyse financial information to enable informed decision-making at Senior Management level.
