Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Anndi Photography is a product photography firm based out of Vancouver, British Columbia. Anndi Photography specializes in product and marketing photography for companies and small, medium, or large businesses to use on their websites and in their media, such as brochures, ads, listings, and catalogues. Anndi Photography is a hassle-free photography firm that puts the emphasis on you. It's your product, so it's your photo shoot. You call the shots. Anndi Photography is pleased to offer the most flexible service coupled with the most flexible prices. Anndi Photography opened its doors to the Lower Mainland in 2006 and has accumulated a substantial client list and portfolio offering commercial product and marketing photography. Anndi Photography is owned and operated by photographer and graphic designer, Danni Fitzpatrick.
