Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I'm a graphic designer from Melbourne, Australia. I first started drawing when I was 6 years old, I still haven't taken the pen out of my hand. After transferring my skills to a digital platform i'm still here where I have been working for the past 4 years. I'm still learning new skills along the way and being taught many different styles. I have been trying to create my own and my thirst for knowledge is something that never goes away. No matter how much I take I will always love doing collaborations with other talented people to learn their take on design and learn off that foundation, to create a major outcome and to be remembered for what I have done. So I have come into this designer's battle field armed with my sketch book in one hand and my camera in the other, fighting to survive this colorful war.
