Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

So many hats and only one head!

Thanks to working in the New York City advertising and graphic design industry for nearly twenty years, I've learned to wear plenty of hats: Art Director, Pre-Press Production Manager, Digital Retoucher, and Videographer, to name just a few. On top of those, I also supply web design and development to clients.

In 2008, once the majority of my clients worked solely over the web with me, I moved my business west to Portland, Oregon.

Thankfully, my clients stuck with me on the move because they value the ease of working with me, my expertise and the willingness to go the extra mile to service their needs. Thanks to all my years of being in this business, there's also very little that I haven't dealt with or haven't a solution to.

Looking for help with your brand images, web or communication needs at an affordable price from a business that has the expertise? Then toss my name into your hat.
