Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

The person behind the name CrisVector is Cristiano Siqueira, a 28 years old illustrator from São Paulo, Brazil.

After the conclusion of a Communication Design technical course, Cristiano started his career in a small graphic design studio, working in graphical projects for books, magazines and CD covers. Some years later, he went to a packaging design agency and got more experience working for bigger clients and using his illustration work as differential in the projects.

With such experience in Illustration field, Cristiano started working as freelance Illustrator after almost 7 years of graphic design.

Nowadays, his works can be found in some magazines and packaging design in Brazil and other locations around the world. Cris is very known by his technique in vector art, but looking deeply at his works we can find some other digital techniques using Photoshop and 3D applications.

Aside the production for clients, Cris keeps a personal production of art that can be found at his website: www.crisvector.com, also, he is a member of the international digital art group depthCORE, collaborating with works for them.

Recently, Cris have been the featured in important publications of design such Advanced Photoshop Magazine, Digital Arts and Create Magazine, had his works being sold as prints at DeviantArt and Click for Art websites and got interviewed and featured by many e-magazines and websites about art and design.

To future Cris wishes to keep working with Illustrations, maybe expanding for other areas as fashion and advertising
