Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I am a freelancer web designer from Brazil called Caio Calderari, however I preferred to be called by my nickname, Caio Call.

Since 2004, I have been working with web and design. My most preferred and most used programs when designing includes Adobe Fireworks and Adobe Illustrator.

Caio Call can develop your unique style by constructing effects and combining images to create your own personalized designs and compositions. Even though Adobe Fireworks is the primary software used for designing, other programs are occasionally used to create certain designs.

The works of Caio Call are very different from other designers because he experiments with new techniques and new concepts creating new designs and developing new concepts.
