Awards and Accolades

Coming from a background in Fine Arts, Craig Denis brings a different vision to a photo shoot than most photographers. His chosen path of interior and architectural photography allows him to explore his creative passion while still making art. With the emergence of the digital age in photography, Craig has developed a unique and dynamic style in his lighting techniques that enable never before seen textures and details to exude and illuminate while still keeping the ambiance of the space. Craig has brought this acquired skill into all aspects of his commercial photography. Whether he is shooting people, portraits, products or food the same outside the box lighting techniques are applied. Understanding that every job has specific needs, Craig always welcomes the input of his clients and guarantees they will get the shots that they are looking for, with an end result that is ready for publication.

Craig is based out of South Florida, Miami, New York, and San Francisco but is willing to travel anywhere for a photo shoot.
