Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I am the author and illustrator of the book - I Take This Train Too.

In Mumbai, train travel is more than just another mode of transport. It is the lifeline of the city. Within this microcosmic universe are characters, plots and stories that even the most imaginative writer would fail to conjure up. The book, I Take This Too, features these diverse, multifaceted personalities through a series of caricatures and humorous writing.

S T A R E R

Key Talent: Pupil Dilation.

My intense scrutiny will leave you feeling violated in the most personal way. You are my obsession, my muse, my point of unwavering focus. Is that a woman you've brought into the compartment? Well fear not, I shall welcome her with my most depraved gaze.

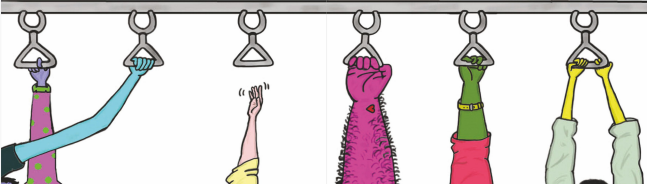

Train travel in Mumbai is a not a simple journey. It is a discipline that must be mastered. There are no medals or accolades to be won, survival is reward enough.

Key Talent: Picking Nose / Fights.

You there, you talking to me? I don't like the way you're looking at the view from my window seat. If you have a problem, we can always take it outside. Inside the train is good too. Yep, my daddy never loved me, and it's all your fault.

DAREDEVIL

Key Talent: Suspending Judgment.

Look at me everybody. I can perform death-defying stunts, with no training whatsoever. My secret is complete and utter disregard for the nagging voice inside my head. The one that keeps telling me I'm going to hit a signal pole sooner or later.

FISHY

*Key Talent:
Inducing Sea Sickness.*

There's nothing as invigorating as the smell of rotting fish. Did you know there's a separate compartment for people who wish to carry bundles or loads? And I'm choosing not to use it; I can't stand the stuffy smell in there. I like it in here, for some reason I never have women crowding me.

H O A R D E R

Key Talent: Acquiring Hand-holds.

This isn't just a train ride, it's a race on. A race of acquisition. And unless you want to be roadkill, you'll not get in the way of my gollum-esque greed for those hand-holds.
