Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Behind Garrigosa Studio we find Joan Garrigosa (Photographer) and Alex Torrens (postproduction) a collaboration that exceeds 12 years. Both have adapted very well to the fast change between traditional photography to digital photography, where in the demanding world of advertising is taking more weight, especially with the entrance of the postproduction.

The house style is photography with a lot of post-production, but with photo realistic results.

Joan began as a photographer doing social reportage, followed by industrial photo work. Gradually he started collaborating with some advertising agencies in Barcelona. After a while, greater versatility has allowed him to work in all photo fields and for all types of clients and projects, both domestic and international.
