COVER STORY

Top 10 Goals for 2018

MOAA's Government Relations team lays out this year's agenda.

MOAA'S ADVOCACY TEAM IS GEARING UP TO PROTECT your health care and retirement benefits, military pay, leave levels, wounded warriors, and caregivers. After an unpredictable 2017, the coming year likely will hold even more surprises on Capitol Hill. Midterm elections are coming in November, and the turnover in Congress could be significant. With partisanship on the rise, the political transition likely will pose interesting challenges. Our dedicated servicemembers and their families have now endured 18 years of war. Overcoming the challenges in the constant competition for fewer dollars, as budget sequestration dominates discussion at every level. These growing budget pressures prompt efforts to erode service-related benefits through reduced pay raises, significant changes to housing allowances, and increased health care fees. While MOAA has successfully deflected some of these challenges, we must remain vigilant. Our paramount concern is the personal impact these reductions have on service and readiness. We're resolved to ensure any reduction to service members – essential to the all-volunteer force – is approached with great care.

COVER STORY

ONE

Action Item: Ensure any TRICARE reform maintains access to top-quality care.

Who is affected? All military beneficiaries, including active-duty troops and retirees, their family members, and others enrolled in DoD's health care.

The issue: Referrals to the Military Health System must maintain an exceptionally steady flow with a ready medical force. MHA strongly agrees the military's health care system needs to be improved.

The remedy: DoD must work to ensure access to care, including care for active-duty troops, retirees, and their families. However, this relationship between health care and the military is not a simple one and has a long history of other programs.

The remedy: DoD must work to ensure access to care, including care for active-duty troops, retirees, and their families. However, this relationship between health care and the military is not a simple one and has a long history of other programs.

TWO

Action Item: Prevent disproportionate TRICARE for active-duty troops.

Who is affected? All military beneficiaries, including active-duty troops and retirees, their family members, and others enrolled in DoD's health care.

The issue: The health care benefits in a community-based system must be consistent with the needs of service members, their families, military retirees, and survivors for the rest of their lives.

The remedy: DoD must work to ensure access to care, including care for active-duty troops, retirees, and their families. However, this relationship between health care and the military is not a simple one and has a long history of other programs.

THREE

Action Item: Ensure military pay comparability with the private sector.

Who is affected? Active-duty troops, military retirees, and their families.

The issue: Budget pressures might force Congress to reduce military pay rates, reducing the pay between military pay and civilian sector pay and hurting recruiting and retention.

The remedy: DoD must work to ensure access to care, including care for active-duty troops, retirees, and their families. However, this relationship between health care and the military is not a simple one and has a long history of other programs.

FOUR

Action Item: Work on quality of life benefits.

Who is affected? All currently serving uniformed personnel and their family members.

The issue: Future generations likely will not have the same level of benefits as current service members.

The remedy: DoD must work to ensure access to care, including care for active-duty troops, retirees, and their families. However, this relationship between health care and the military is not a simple one and has a long history of other programs.

FIVE

Action Item: Protect military retirement and COLAs.

Who is affected? All new entrants into military service after Jan. 1, as well as those with less than 12 years of active military service who choose to opt in to the new blended retirement system (BRS).

The issue: Budget pressures might lead to further reductions in the value of the military retirement benefits earned after 20 years of service.

The remedy: DoD must work to ensure access to care, including care for active-duty troops, retirees, and their families. However, this relationship between health care and the military is not a simple one and has a long history of other programs.

SIX

Action Item: Retain wounded warrior programs and expand caregiver support.

Who is affected? More than 50,000 service members who were wounded in action.

The issue: While DoD, the VA, and the military service continue to maintain programs to care and support our most vulnerable servicemembers, MHA has seen reductions in resources and funding for these programs.

The remedy: MHA is committed to meeting DoD and the VA to establish a more unified and integrated system of care and benefits that will provide comprehensive, wrap-around services to facilitate the health and well-being of the nation's wounded, ill, and injured.

SEVEN

Action Item: End financial penalties to survivors and the disabled.

Who is affected? Veterans with service-connected disabilities and their survivors.

The issue: Veterans forced into disability payments before completing a full career are
