Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Graham 'Logo' Smith is the founder and owner of imjustcreative, a freelance logo and identity design studio and home to his portfolio.

All of which are tucked away in a small coastal town called Seaford, England.

Aside from working on logo and identity projects, Graham writes in-depth articles on aforementioned subjects, also known to occasionally stir it up a smidgen with his thoughts and opinions.

Graham also keeps a few other web projects ticking over. These include Single Measures, playing with circles on Unevolved Brands, getting close and personal with Love Helvetica, playing doctor over at The Logo Clinic and pretending to be a portrait gallery with MonoExpressions.

Graham likes to believe he has his ear firmly entrenched in the ground. Single Measures is his secondary channel for strategically sourced links of coolness.

Elsewhere, you may find Graham frequently and frantically keeping Twitter fed and updated, avoiding Facebook where ever possible, posting snaps to Instagram, occasionally Dribbbling and bookmarking items of delight at Designspiration.

Graham would like to hear from you. Download his vCard for other ways to get in touch.
