Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Collecting and finding odd objects has forever been a part of my life, mainly to create beautiful surroundings wherever I live.

I design and make upcycled sculptural lighting and candlesticks from found and salvaged materials. The joy of putting something together with no real idea of where its going to end up and creating something fun and aesthetically good out of generic and unloved objects is really exciting. My company is a social enterprise, so a percentage of the profits go into a local recycling scheme and I also deliver upcycling workshops.
