Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I'm a British, London based creative/art director, who has a passion for all things creative... (and many more vices to mention as well). Over my career I have attained a wealth of experience across a broad variety of creative disciplines. I'm always looking to project my influences in my work. Enthusiastic to think outside of the box, whether working on briefs from clients or projects for myself.

With an illustrative foundation, extensive print design knowledge, as well as following the constantly changing digital world, I'm never afraid to be a full 'hands-on' creative or working with a team, pulling on the skills of others to generate fresh imaginative solutions to any creative brief.
