Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Gabriel Kalach was born and raised in Cali, Colombia, one of the most beautiful countries of South America and voted as one of the happiest countries in the world by Time magazine.

At an early stage Gabriel instinctively embraced the arts in a truly passionate manner, by translating his everyday life and experiences into pictorial representations the accurately evoked factual life. Fine Art, Architecture, Design and a thirst for knowledge drove him to further his inherent talents.

Being 9 years old he was awarded in recognition for his aesthetical and architectural representation of a landscape he created. It soon was clear that it would be wise to pursue a path where arts were an integral part of his life.

For more than a decade, Gabriel was a member of a selected group of very young talented artists who attended The Martenot Academy for the Arts in Colombia.

Later in life, he moved to the capital city of Colombia - Bogota, in order to pursue higher goals. After attending The Tadeo University and completing a 5-year Graphics and Arts Career, never stopped studying and researching. Something he aptly calls the University of Life.

He initiated his work efforts for small to high profile companies even before he had graduated. The experience proved to be invaluable once he indeed graduated.

Soon after graduating, Gabriel decided to try and participate in the COREL/EPSON National Graphic Design Contest. A first of its kind at that time in Colombia.

In an awe-inspiring outcome, he was the winner of the contest in all categories.

Although feeling accomplished and appreciative of the opportunity given to him, his artistic and curious soul yearned for more. He needed a bigger challenge. In 1999 Gabriel decided to take his talents and entrepreneurial spirit to the U.S.

The Colombian designer was granted a talent-based O-1 Visa. Knowing that only a certain number of Talent Visa's are issued per year, he was determined to make his mark and remain in the U.S.

In acknowledgement of his proven talents, awards, work and publications, he was awarded a Talent-based Green-Card; an amazing feat when considering that an artist has to be on the top 10% of his field on his native country as well as being recognized in the USA to be considered.

Gabriel, a free spirit of sorts, instead of pursuing a career in the corporate stage, continued working as an independent Visual Communicator and Graphic Artist following a path of conceptual freedom that has proven ultimately conducive to his artistic creations.

He is continuously evolving, growing and developing new ideas every day. As an autodidact who seeks to excel in subjects outside the mainstream of conventional education, his innate curiosity and love for research has grown and proven to be an asset which reaches and influences every aspect of his life - especially his work. Gabriel designs and artistic creations has been recognized, published and awarded numerous times in the past decade. While keeping a low profile, he has worked with top
