

Alex Lexitricity

Filmmaking
United Kingdom

View the full portfolio at <http://www.thecreativefinder.com/lexitricity>

Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Alex Sufit (aka Lexitricity)

Film director with a background in Illustration. I grew up between London and France on a diet of Art-House cinema and MTV.

'Gentlemen in Squalor', which is set in the prohibition era and stars British actor Dexter Fletcher, is my music video 'homage' to Bugsy Malone. It has won the jury prize at the Sacramento Film & Music Festival and the Amsterdam Film Festival, amongst others. Most recently, I directed a video for GRAMMY-nominated artists LMFAO, which was a finalist of Channel 4's Tuborg Liquid Soundtrack.

My commercial credits includes the 'Only in Belfast' TV spots and Danone (Bonafont mineral water), a promo for the BornShorts Film Festival shot on 35mm at Pinewood and a book trailer for best-selling author Susan Lewis, Random House publishing.

I've also written and directed a number of shorts films, including black comedy 'The Morning After', 'Blink' a micro thriller broadcast on Canal+ and 'How Not To Say I Love You' which was selected for 'Jeunes Auteurs en Europe' at the Amiens Film Festival.

Previous Clientele

Commercial clients include: Danone, Penguin Books USA, Random House Publishing and the Institute of Contemporary Arts (ICA) in London.

Awards and Accolades

Please kindly get in touch for more information.

Awards and Accolades

Van Gogh Award in World Cinema, Amsterdam
Film Festival

Award of Merit, The Indie Festival, California
Jury Award, Music Video, Sacramento Film &
Music Festival

Best Music Video, Limelight Film & Arts Awards
Festival Favourite Trophy, OneCloudFest
Best Music Video, London Short Film Festival

Professional Member of the Directors Guild of Great Britain

Alex Lexitricity

Filmmaking
United Kingdom

View the full portfolio at <http://www.thecreativefinder.com/lexitricity>

Please kindly get in touch for portfolio works.

15b Lloyd Road Singapore 239098 (co. reg. 201004398N)
helpdesk 656.227.2902, fax 656.227.0213