Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Slanted Publishers is an independent publishing house focusing on projects and publications in the field of graphic design, typography, illustration and photography.

Slanted.de is a weblog that has typography and design as its topic. Founded in 2004 it has grown into one of the most important design portals and discussion forums in the German-speaking area. It informs its readers about international design trends and events day by day in numerous categories and is always in tune with the zeitgeist of design and typography. Slanted is represented internationally through many media cooperations and linkings.

The typography magazine SLANTED, in existence since 2005 and complementing the weblog, is published biannually and combines the sectors typography, layout, illustration and photography. It attends to the topics in greater detail and more intensive.

Both blog and magazine encourage and call for a debate on these subjects as an experimental field.

Besides Slanted.de and Slanted magazine, Slanted Publishers is publisher and editor of projects such as the Yearbook of Type, the tear-off calendars Typodarium and Poladarium, the independent type foundry Volcano Type as well as other design related projects and publications.
