Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

For years now, I have had this traditional resume that had nothing but Sales on it. I hate Sales. Graphic Designer / Writer / Blogger, Linguist, and Ex Hip Hop Dance Instructor, you need me. No, I do not have a degree just yet, but I have the perfect set of skills to help out just about any company not as an employee, but as an Independent Contractor. Along with what I've listed, I am also a very technologically-based person. I'm an Apple Enthusiast who loves all types of gadgets. I live on Mac, but also know Windows, everything from setting them up to getting the new owner up-and-running. I also do Admin-type work. Basically, anything you need done that corresponds with any of the above specified can be directly outsourced to yes, myself as a Freelancer. Last but not least, I also do promotions and research and can serve as PR.

Awards and Accolades Experience

Blogger, Mizosoop (Self-Employed), Huntsville, AL 2010-2011

I blog every week at random intervals about current street wear, technology, design, new artists, funny commercials, and anything else that comes to mind. Link > Mizosoop

Freelance Graphic Designer (Self-Employed), Huntsville, AL 2006-2011

Every now and then I catch a job designing a logo, a business card, a website, or a flyer.

Specialist / Business Team, Apple Inc., Huntsville, AL 2008-2009

I sold to consumer and businesses, specifically targeting small business owners. I hosted workshops along with holding Business Consultations for those businesses that wanted to switch to Mac. I worked as a cashier and sometimes signed up or checked people in for appointments for Technical Support at our Genius Bar or One to One Training with our Creatives.

Radio Promotions, 98.3 WDLT / Power 93.3 Mobile / Huntsville, AL 2003, 2006

I served as a member of the street team for two different radio stations in two different cities in the state of Alabama. Though they weren't my style or flavor of music, I was able to do promotions and add an extra skill to my resume.
