Hey I am Mohit Tandon

I am a medical doctor, entrepreneur, and philanthropist who has partnered and supported various medical missions and animal charities throughout the world.

I was raised in the suburbs of Chicago, Illinois and completed my graduation from the University of Chicago. I completed my medical training at several prestigious hospitals in the Chicago area, with fellowships specifically in surgery.

In addition to surgical practice, i am a member of the American Society of Clinical Pathology and several non-profit organization providing life-threatening surgeries for over 200 indigent patients in India. As a dog lover, i also supports the West Suburban Humane Society in Chicago, through financial contributions and personal efforts to generate awareness for pet adoption and care.

After spending nearly a decade working as a doctor and as a supporter of medical charities, i embarked on an entrepreneurial venture as a Marketing Strategist for high fashion designers and high-end brands. I have achieved good success in the fashion industry by influencing the business growth of my clients by over 200%. I have consulted for multimillion-dollar brands and remains one of the most sought-after marketing consultants in the industry. I know what truly drives business in the fashion and special occasion dress markets and how to look to the next big trends in marketing.

With my extensive knowledge and marketing experience, i am a trained business coach who speaks five languages. I am currently pursuing his MBA from the University of Miami.
