Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Naked Ideas® was founded in 2003 as a response to how other agencies routinely over complicate simple brand problems. We set out to prove that digital and brand campaigns can be tackled in a more intelligent way.

Our team work with you to really understand your key messaging and to uncover the central ideas of your brand, which allows us to develop the simplest and most innovative and effective solutions.

We treat our clients as partners and solve their branding and digital challenges collaboratively, with insight and panache.

We're an independent agency and encourage our people to be.
