Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Osika Design: www.osikadesign.com/studio

Andreu Osika leads a multi-disciplinary design studio established after he graduated with a master's degree in industrial design from the Rhode Island School of Design (RISD) in 2003.

The studio engages in a variety of projects ranging from corporate identity, branding, user interface and icon design, information graphics, website design, apparel graphics, packaging graphics, print communications and product concept design.

Andreu belongs to an international network of top tier designers, illustrators, developers, user interface usability specialists and copywriters who work with him on a per-project basis. This flexible infrastructure allows the studio to quickly adapt to client needs and deliver solutions within budget and timeframe.

Andreu earned a master's degree in industrial design from RISD and an undergraduate degree in graphic design from the University of Illinois at UC. He has studied design at the University of Northumbria in Newcastle, UK and has worked as a product designer in Warsaw, Poland. He has been recognized for his graphic, product and web design work and has had his work published in Graphis, Critique, The Boston Globe, Communication Arts, ID and Newsweek.
