Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Patrick Latimer is a Cape Town based illustrator and cartoonist. After several years working as an art director at some of Cape Town's large advertising agencies, he made the jump to full time illustration. His work can be found in local and international magazines, on book covers and wine labels and seen in advertising campaigns. He uses pencil drawings, ink splats, found textures and photographic elements combined in Photoshop to create his work and is always experimenting with new combinations.
