Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Ribbitknight is the studio of Anna Dittmer, a designer and illustrator based in Düsseldorf, Germany. Known for her illustration and lettering projects, Anna likes to express her fondness for video games and Japanese culture in smaller and larger projects. By now she has illustrated and lettered a humorous series of greeting cards featuring video game creatures and has turned one-hundred Japanese syllables into a series of lettering artworks.

Lately Anna runs a project called Pixel Passport, where she designs rubber stamps for fictional video game places, inspired by Japan's memorial stamps.
