Work Experience_
2003_Online Learning Technologies
Designed an educational website for the Cumbria Institute of the Arts which the institute could update and expand upon easily and quickly.

2003_32bit
My poster concept for my courses end of year exhibition, 32bit, was chosen as the official exhibition poster which promoted the event in June of 2003. Following this I was also given the responsibility of designing the invitations as well as the website.

2003_Pececillo
Designed the website for the web development/software firm down in London working to a very business orientated remit.

2003_Urban Development
For my final project of my degree I designed and created a Flash based website around the topic of Britain's post-war Urban Development. The project allowed me to further develop my time management skills as well as my Flash knowledge.

Employment_
Huan.co.uk
At the moment I'm working as a Graphic/Web Designer for the new media firm Huan, helping to create logos/branding examples as well as websites for a range of companies and products.
