Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

wild-orb /wa?ld-??b/ n — the irregular trajectory of a creative team that stands on the solid bases of technical knowledge and refracts it through the fresh, uncommon, provocative thinking “out of the box” in order to create a beautiful and unique new world. Especially for you — our clients.

Wildorb is an interactive design studio, founded in July 2004 that is striving for direct and functional solutions where you can see that little detail which gives a special touch and makes people smile. We think about our work as a visual entertainment. The innovative ideas and realizations have good technical level, which gives us the opportunity to focus on the individual needs of the client and to offer them the most important thing — personalized high quality services.

We define ourselves as a team of professionals with specialized skills and experience. We are designers, programmers and developers that enjoy our work and the creative freedom that we have. In order to learn about your ideas, purposes and needs, the direct contact with you, our clients, is extremely important to us. The good professional relations between both sides accelerates the design process and allows a much more precise understanding of our client's style and company. In order to provide a complete solution that is covering all your needs, our team spirit is sustained through daily meetings between our departments. The result — for our clients as well as for us — is more than just a product.

For our projects, we are combining a clean design with a solid technical realization — a final effect which truly inspires, informs and interacts with the visitors.
