Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Our name WeShouldDoltAll (WSDIA) is simply a goal. Designers and all other professionals alike should not feel constrained to some singular expertise. To survive our own creative game, it is imperative to know that there is not one, absolute solution to a given problem. To immerse oneself within different avenues of creative production and mediums forces you to consider the otherwise unconsidered. It's that method of working that's exciting and motivating to look forward to the next transition.
