Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Andrea Castelletti is a multidisciplinary art director and designer living and working in Milan.

His work has been featured in numerous books, blogs and websites, and won design awards from Graphis Platinum and Graphis Gold among others. Some of his work has been exhibited in over 30 cities of the world, from South Korea to California, from La Triennale Design Museum in Milan to Les Arts décoratifs, Palais du Louvre in Paris. In 2010 he has been chosen by TNT Festival (powered by Italian Government) as one of the "Young Talent" of the year. He started work in the advertising world in 2007 when he won a contest organized by the Pepsi Company, and his artwork has been produced on 10 million bottles and cans. Since 2008 he collaborates as an Art Director for the advertising agency TW2 (Milan and New York). He has been jury member of Poster for Tomorrow (Paris), Walls Down (5th International Poster Exhibition) Universidad San Ignacio de Loyola (Peru) and ADCI (Italian Art Directors Club).

When not doing advertising, he can be found teaching Graphic Design at IED (European Institute of Design), playing with his dog Paloma, drinking blueberries juice, or travelling around the world with his sweetie Camilla.
