THAT GIRL

HOLY SMOAK

PLAYING FELICITY SMOAK—A CHARACTER described by Entertainment Weekly as “everybody’s favourite IT girl,” Emily Bett Rickards has emerged as one to watch on CW’s hit action-drama series Arrow. A guest star on the first season, she returns as a regular on the second, which starts in October.

In her role as aide to Oliver Queen (Stephen Amell), businessman and superhero, Rickards has gone from Smoak to smokin’. Leaving her desk job to join the action in the field, the bespectacled computer geek has released her inner Bond girl.

“She won’t be dismissing her genius nerd abilities,” says Rickards of her character in season two, “but she definitely will be exploring more of her adventurous side.”

On location in Vancouver, the 22-year-old actor, who grew up in nearby Crescent Beach, took time to talk about Hollywood North, high heels, Vancouver style and literary sci-fi.

Were you excited to get out of the IT lab and into the field?

“The first time we see Felicity sans glasses is when she gets a bomb collar strapped to her neck. I was ecstatic.”

How do you feel about all the positive feedback your performance has been getting?

“I’m so happy that a wide variety of people find Felicity so relatable. The response is a compliment to the amazing creative writing team we have. I’m grateful that I’m able to bring to life what they put on paper.”

Style-wise, are you like Felicity?

"I am a bit more casual. A lot of the time I'm wearing a flat panel cap or a toque, but I just slipped out of a pair of heels."

Are you a fan of the way Vancouver men dress?

"Overall, the style is really chill. The skate culture presence is strong, as well as hipster fashion. Put a man in a T-shirt, jeans and an excellent pair of shoes, and I'll melt."

What are you currently reading?

"I recently finished Ready Player One, which is a really interesting take on a future virtual world with a lot of '80s pop culture references. And next I plan to go on an adventure with Hollow Earth, by John and Carole E. Barrowman."

Listening to?

"I was advised by David Ramsey [an Arrow colleague] to start listening to Lizz Wright recently, because I was looking for some new tunes. My forever loves are Chromeo, Vampire Weekend and Etta James. And a solid '90s playlist never goes unappreciated."

What projects do you have planned for fall?

"One thing that is always on my mind is helping abandoned animals. There needs to be a greater awareness about animal rescue. If I hadn't heard of Adopt An Indian Desi Dog, I wouldn't have my pup!" —JENNIFER LEE
