Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Name: Aine Scannell Member of Fife & Dunfermline Print Workshop I am originally from Cork. I am nuts about art and have been for most of my life - I love printmaking; I studied originally as a painter and only realized that it wasn't the "appropriate" medium for me when I was in the middle of doing my M.F.A. in fine art, in Barcelona (Winchester School of Art). That was in 1992, after which— I started taking printmaking courses at local and then central London colleges. . I was then fortunate enough to be awarded a residency at Lowick Print Studios (now disbanded) in Cumbria, which was the best time ever. With my own technician ---heaven!! Thereafter I did 2 further artists residencies one was a printmaking the other a 'general' residency. In 1997, I got a place on the M.A. printmaking course at Wimbledon School of Art, London. After the post-graduate printmaking course at Wimbledon I continued with my printmaking practice at the London Print Studio. By this time I had acquired my own small printmaking press and had set up a home studio which was in quite a lovely attic location. I moved up to Scotland in Dec 2006 and am a member of our local print workshop FDPW. The most recent significant print exhibition I presented work in – was in Falun in Sweden which came about from being one of the artist featured in the "Printmaking on the Edge" book by Richard Noyce. (recently published by A & C Black, London.
