Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
I was born in Guyana, lived there until I was 12, moved around a bit after that. Got started on art by drawing videogame characters out of instruction manuals and videogame magazines. I eventually would go to school for Game Art and Design to follow my dream of making videogames, but I still continued to draw as a hobby. I started coloring my pencil drawings on the computer and eventually that developed into my current style which is a mix between digital and traditional. Currently I'm working on my own game and working on a collaborative art project called "BrokeBot' . I see drawing as just another version of storytelling even if it seems close to the truth or as Picasso said “Art is a lie that makes us realize truth.”
