Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

After 5 years of learning, assisting and working my butt off, I'm finally starting to shoot on my own. I've learned from some of the top photographers out there and I'm very grateful to have those experiences. With that said, I'm never done learning. I want to never stop growing. I will always be a kid, deep down on the inside, playing with a new idea.

Every shoot is different. Style, to me, is not having the same lighting set up every time. Style is having images that are recognizable. Images that people notice. This is what I provide to my clients. This is why you want to hire me.
