Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
When I first stepped into photography in my native Spain, I decided to take a holistic approach – something I still do today. So, I started working in analog, black and white, as well as medium, large and 35mm formats.

My experience in analog and later digital has given me an appreciation of different techniques. Like experimenting with the use of color and texture, and understanding how to interpret subtle nuances and tones.

I’ve chosen to feature various styles of my work because I believe a never-ending dose of curiosity is essential, and feel comfortable exploring each and every one of them.
