Every reader has had the experience of falling in love with a classic. And in much the same way everybody has a favourite drink. But what if one could influence the other?

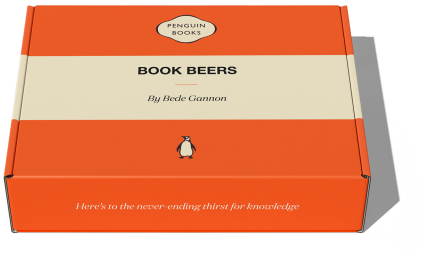

We took some of the most loved Penguin Classics and created a line of bespoke varietal beers that take tasting notes directly from the stories themselves. Could the indicative copy featured on the back of the can pique enough interest to open the book it's paired with? Only once reading the book will the tasting notes become clearer, as if suddenly becoming aware of the punch line of a joke.

The set of six book beers come packaged together with their matching books - all contained within a premium collectors box.

Much like Homer's brave hero, Odysseus, a night out can be filled with treacherous scenarios - yet hopefully it wont take you ten years to get home. The 17% ABV will at times give you a set of 'sea legs' as you test your metal against the wrath of Poseidon and other bar-dwelling creatures. Be it a one eyed monster, witches or temptresses, one must endure, for the glory (kebab) and homeland (bed) awaits.

Listen to the voices in your head when you spot this drink on the shelf. This puckering drop is so bitter that it restored young Billy Babbits power of speech. It may even send your mind into a world where it longs to escape from, only to be swiftly lobotomised by the 14% electroshock therapy and returned to the ward.

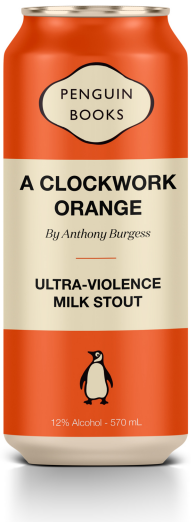

Upon finishing this heady beverage you may begin to understand the guilt which Raskolnikov was burdened with after slaying his victims. A lump may form in the back of your throat as you know what lies ahead - severe punishment of the hangover kind. Weighing in a whopping 18% this blood red Russian Imperial IIPA will most certainly sate the bloodlust of even the most deraged drinkers.

Well well well my droogs, the time has come to talk about this madening tipple that will not only tapdance on your tastebuds - but stomp them into submission. Your humble narrator would suggest this liquid pairs perfectly with a night of crime and disorder. The 12% booze entombed within this can will have you behaving like a free man shouting “I’M CURED, I’M CURED” as you regain your senses and penchant for evil.

Have you ever felt like you need to go someplace idyllic and quiet to sit down with a beer and a good book? Well, you’re going to love this tipple. Let the tropical flavours lap at your feet as the relaxing infusion helps you feel like you’ve discovered a map that will lead you to a space of pure happiness. The 25% ABV will lull you into a false sense of security, only to be made aware that day drinking often leads to early bedtimes.

This drink will take you on a roadtrip through no mans land. While starting out with tart good intentions, it quickly descends into complete madness as the varying substances take hold of your nervous system. A dizzying 23% forces you to admire the shape of your companions skull as the imaginary bats descend on your automobile. The mescaline infusion will make any adult question their sanity - only to emerge out the other side as a shell of a human.
