Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I'm an independent photographer based in the UK.

I've photographed projects as diverse as youth culture in Scotland, Australian gold mining and Spain's economic crisis. I'm now now working on a new series exploring the periphery of London. My work has been published in Le Monde, Regards, The Fader and Newsweek, and I've photographed for a diverse range of commercial clients.

In 2009 I was the recipient of the British Journal of Photography's Project Assistance Award for my series 'The Gathering Clouds' – a contemplative look at the effects of the economic crisis on Spain's social and physical landscape. In 2010, I was named as one of PDN's 30 New and Emerging Photographers to Watch.

I'm represented by the Lisa Pritchard Agency in London, and Picturertank in Paris.
