Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I am a self taught photographer based in Essex, just forty minutes outside of Central London.

Probably best known for my beauty work but shooting a wide range of fashion, portrait and commercial. I try not to pigeonhole my work too much as the genres cross so much in any case.

I am available for commercial assignments across the UK and worldwide. I am also available for model tests, portfolios, headshots, portraits etc.

For previews of new work please visit the blog and social networking links.
