Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Bulletproof solves business problems, intelligently, strategically and creatively...via amazing design solutions.

We believe design can change the world (or at least improve the bottom line) and we take an IMC-informed approach to ensure our work speaks with one compelling voice and a consistent graphic language across the brandscape.

While our work spans all types of design, from graphic identity systems to 3-d structural solutions, we tend to specialise in three areas: 1) brand, 2) packaging and 3) shopper marketing.

We are large enough to tackle any task, but small enough to stay true to our entrepreneurial founder-culture of conviction, integrity and energy.

Our difference is our people. We are a multi-talented, multicultural bunch who are constantly driven to better our best work. With Bulletproof, you get fantastic ideas, executed creatively by a team who really care.
