Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
Carolina has been flirty with arts and design since she was very young. She always knew, like no others, how important is to keep business and art together in order to grow your own work. By the time she starts her professional life she balanced both talents, esthetic vision and business, always ready to gamble but never believing she knew enought. At first sight she represents the contemporary and prints joviality and freshness in everything she does. She is always in tune when it comes to, talks about music, fashion, films, politics and economics and at the same time but keeps discretion and turns back to her cultural references to make things better.
