We take a deep personal interest in our clients and continuously strive to meet and anticipate their needs by providing investment, financial, fiduciary, and lifestyle management services that complement the family enterprise by consolidating, coordinating, and streamlining all key functions.

We expertly direct an inspiring ensemble of communication, creativity, and cooperation. In unison, they give the performance of a lifetime and you hold in your hand tickets to the best seats in the house.

Dedicated to add a solid fix, we take a deep personal interest in our clients and offer customized services that transcend those rendered by large financial institutions and other multi-family offices. By getting to know each family member personally, we maintain a comprehensive awareness of and an active interest in helping your entire family achieve its goals through superior wealth management services.

Our service is based purely on relationships built on trust and understanding between your family and our team of advisors. This team approach ensures that someone who is familiar with your unique situation and with the authority to act on your behalf is available 24/7 to address any needs your family may have.

WHY HIRE A MULTI-FAMILY OFFICE?

"Shirt sleeves to shirt sleeves in three generations."

Most sophisticated families believe their net worth is substantial enough to insulate them from complex financial degradation. This is true for most generation family members, but once wealth begins to fracture across several generations, mismanaged investing, unwise spending habits, uneven tax laws, and reduced buying power compound the degenerative effects. Regeneration lies on the value of the portfolio.

The Benefits of Family Wealth Management Services

While extended family members become separated by distance, disinterest, and death, they are still integral parts of the whole and, from time to time, meet as one. The family is a dynamic entity composed of individuals with varying interests, abilities, needs, and goals. Working with Quintessence Group, the family remains cohesive through a formal framework that facilitates constant communication and understanding. By consolidating their assets and creating a sound plan for their financial future, the family enjoys more benefits that would otherwise not be available to them.

These benefits include but are not limited to:

- Substantial increase in overall net worth of the family portfolio
- Access to a vast array of integrated and customized services not traditionally offered anywhere else
- Cost savings and the benefits of smaller family assets being included in the portfolio's investment strategy
- Strengthening of the family's legacy by reaffirming the family mission through education and practice
- Confidence that the management of financial and personal affairs are held in the strictest privacy
- Peace of mind, knowing they are affiliated with an organization whose goals are completely aligned with theirs
