Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I am a recent college graduate with a Bachelor of Arts in Art Therapy and a digital media minor. My love for all things creative showed itself when I was very young, and I started sketching. When I was about 12, I decided I was going to go to school for fashion design, and become a famous designer. My mother's response to this, however, was that I wouldn't make any money doing that. So, I shifted my attention to psychology. I came across an art therapy textbook in my sister's college bookstore and never looked back. Once in college, I had an urge to take some of my creative hobbies to another level, which led to my minor courses, including film and digital photography, graphic design, and web design. I believe my unique education makes me and my artwork very well rounded.
