Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
Christine Hale is an illustrator, designer, and singer/songwriter based in Vermont and enjoys spending her time traveling between Los Angeles and New York City, as well as abroad.

She is prone to bouts of childlike laughter, as evident in her whimsical and colorful illustration style, but the comic nature of her work is decidedly clever, witty, and nuanced. Hale creates a perfect balance between the hilarity of her subject matter and an artist's sophisticated craftsmanship, with a contemporary approach to design and illustration.

As a multi-instrumentalist with a passion for writing, she also spends her time singing, composing, performing, and touring the US and abroad. Her love of music and visual art dovetail in her extensive body of gig-poster work. Go to www.posterswiththemosters.com to view posters she created for more than 100 bands and musicians.
