Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Experience:

Medsn

Art Director (promoted from Senior Graphic Designer from Flash Engineer)

2001-2005

I am responsible for the design of web sites and production of e-Learning modules for Pharmaceutical, Biotech, and device related companies. I program device and product simulations with the assistance of a Medical Illustrator, supervise project teams and budgets, and coordinate large training programs around strict deadlines. Additionally, I worked with a small team to develop two versions of our company's e-Learning platform, developed and refined the standard content template, and assisted in the development of a variety of flexible learning activities and interactive exercises. Medsn clients include: The University of Michigan, Johns Hopkins University, The Department of Defense, Bausch and Lomb, Lilly, Novartis, Baxter, Boston Scientific, Johnson & Johnson, Datascope, Eyeonics, Biogen, Pfizer, and Solvay.

Williams Media

Freelance Flash and Graphic Designer

1999-2005

I create Flash and HTML web sites for a number of different companies and musicians, such as: The Corrs, Pleasure Club, Cornelius, Something for Rockets, Maimou, ShockNina, 8mm, Republik Games, Lime Studios, Padma Bodywork, Not From Concentrate Creative, and Ubiquity Gallery. A showcase of these sites can be viewed online at: www.williamsmedia.net.

DNA Studio

Contract Flash Designer

2001

I assisted in the development of flash web sites, flash postcard generators, and Eyebaster advertisements for the movies: Jurassic Park 3, The Mummy Returns, John Carpenter's 'The Ghosts of Mars,' Baby Boy, Eve 6, Final Fantasy 8, American Pie 2, and Legally Blonde.

Quisic

Contract Flash Producer

2000-2001

I produced e-Learning content, graphic designs, layouts, and animations for a multitude of clients, including United Airlines and Strategos.
