Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I'm an illustrator living in Nunhead. I use pencil and watercolour to bring to life characters for children.

Before taking up illustration full time, I did the corporate thing and worked for 18 years in central London and Austria, as culture manager at Red Bull, head of marketing for BBC Radio One, and most recently running YouTube's global Spaces programme.

I love the great outdoors, with a particular penchant for mountains, ancient history and heavy metal (hence the monster thing).
