Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Evolv Design combines bold and imaginative imagery with the elements of effective communications — a strong idea combined with simple, powerful words — to create successful marketing and communications projects. The end result is an intelligent, collaborative piece that works our clients and their audience. Patrick McCarty, the owner and creative director, has been designing creative solutions for small start-up companies, non-profits, and all the way up to Fortune 500 companies for over 25 years.

Patrick has experience in all aspects of design management. From initial client contact through to final project completion, he has been able to keep clients happy, confident in the firm's abilities, and coming back year after year.
