Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

David Boni is an Advertising Photographer & Commercials Director.

David started out as a studio photographer shooting on film, mainly on large format 5 X 4 & 10 X 8.

He has now fully embraced the world of digital and is free of the studio and has over ten years experience in post production and digital workflow.

In 1999 David directed his first TV commercial so with this new found discipline and having spent 8 years previously in the studio he is completely at ease in any situation whether it be as a stills photographer or director.

David shoots animals, people and location.

He is represented in London by Stable London
