Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Helen is a UX designer who has worked on numerous projects from a database of more than 30 clients ranging from start-ups to medium-sized businesses and well known agencies. She specializes in mobile and web UX/UI design and has been designing for the past 3 years. She is constantly keeping her skills and knowledge up-to-date by reading and following industry news and best practices on a daily basis. Some of her previous clients include Clutch, Tesla Consulting, AvidTap, R/ally and Mangaloo. While working freelance with those start-ups, she has also been contracted for design jobs at agencies such as nine10, Mango Marketing and Bravr.

Helen is currently employed as a Visual Interactive Designer at Digiflare, an Agency specializing in Media based in Toronto, Ontario.

Helen also likes talking in third person, is always open for freelance projects and enjoys receiving random hello emails.
