Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae
I am a visual storyteller living in my hometown: Hollywood, California.

I work with the same clients again and again because I love what I do.

I have done portraits with people like Angelina Jolie and Steven Spielberg and even the grocer on the corner.

Famous people are okay, but I think as a society we give them way too much credit. Ordinary, everyday people are every bit as compelling and interesting. I enjoy getting to know someone, photographing them, and then telling their story in a picture.

I am a storyteller. Great pictures tell stories.

This is what I aim to do.

And also, I aim to have a lot of fun too.
