Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

The Florence Institute is an international school of Italian design providing both masters and undergraduate design courses in Italy. The Institute specializes in courses of Graphic Design, Interior Design, Furniture Design and Architecture for students from across Europe and around the world. We focus on Italy's international students with all classes taught in the English language. Our design school staff has a respected reputation for dynamic teaching methods, motivating course material and interactive learning.

Located within an elegant setting in the center of Florence, Italy our design school is an ideal place to study abroad. As a private Italian institution, quality education is provided as a result of professional staff, excellent resources and personalized instruction. Knowledgeable staff responds to your interests and addresses your academic needs. The Institute's philosophy is to offer the highest level of graphic design and interior design education while providing a quality facility and extensive resources.

Our design school courses have been specifically created to give a detailed understanding of Italy's rich culture. The Florence Institute's courses teach the foundation of interior design by combining modern technology with inventive traditions. Our graphic design school courses teach tradition, theory and the latest graphic software. All students are issued stimulating design problems commonly faced in Italy's modern society. Lessons in the Italian language and Art History are part of each student's education.
