Gail Peck

Fine Arts

View the full portfolio at http://www.thecreativefinder.com/gailpeck

Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

I use my artwork as a vehicle for creating awareness, posing questions, and for making statements on various social issues. More about that here. My creative process is anchored in a consistent, intuitive approach to being present in the now. I live immersed in the flow of creation, incorporating what comes into my stream of consciousness {intellectually, emotionally and/or physically} into my artwork.

As a multi-disciplinary artist, my paintings, photography and assemblage have been shown in the Sewall-Belmont House and Museum, the National Cathedral, in addition to multiple galleries, and art centers throughout North America. My painting, Gustav Quilt I, won first place in the “Introspective Images” show in Bethesda, MD in 2004. My work is held in multiple private collections throughout the United States and has appeared in the Washington Post.

When I am not in the studio, I enjoy reading, watching NOVA (because I’m a big nerd with a rock collection) and hiking around the world with my family. Also, I have a thing for hyphens. How about you? Thoughts? Comments? Commissions? Drop me a line at gail@gailpeck.com. I would love to hear from you!

Previous Clientele

Please kindly get in touch for more information.

Awards and Accolades

Please kindly get in touch for more information.

Awards and Accolades

First Place, Introspective Images Exhibit,
Bethesda, MD November 12, 2004

Gail Peck

Fine Arts

View the full portfolio at http://www.thecreativefinder.com/gailpeck

Please kindly get in touch for portfolio works.