Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Geometry Dash is a rhythm-based action platformer where players control a small cube that automatically moves forward. The goal is simple — jump, fly, and flip your way through obstacles to reach the end of each level. The challenge, however, is anything but simple. Every jump must be perfectly timed, every movement must match the beat, and one small mistake sends you back to the start.

The gameplay might sound easy at first, but the combination of speed, rhythm, and precision creates an intense and satisfying experience. Each level is synced to energetic electronic music, turning every jump into part of a larger dance between movement and sound.
