Professional Experience and Curriculum Vitae

Plazmaman has grown into becoming Australia's leading manufacturer of high end cooling and performance solutions for the street, racing, diesel and industrial markets. We are highly regarded as an industry leader in quality and performance, which is showcased through a large range of street, and race applications throughout Australia and the world.

Here at Plazmaman, we have a complete in-house manufacturing, fabrication and finishing facility, containing a range of CNC Machinery, a full time welding department, an in-house R&D department, product polishing, tube bending, and powdercoating section. We also have close relationships with casting companies, silicone hose manufacturers, and core suppliers, both locally, and internationally.
